

Flughafen Wien AG on the Results of the IFM Purchase Offer

For Flughafen Wien AG, the operating company of Vienna Airport, the fact that two-thirds of the free float shareholders refused to accept the purchase offer of IFM represents a gratifying vote of confidence. The decision reflects the opinion of free float shareholders who believe in the further positive development of the company. This is reinforced by the good traffic development at Vienna Airport, which shows that the desire to travel is once again on the rise. The ongoing stock exchange listing of Flughafen Wien AG is also an important success factor underlying a good business performance. Flughafen Wien AG will do whatever is necessary to ensure that it remains a listed company in the future.
